

The PostScript Forever Promise Guarantee

PostScript was created to provide tools that allow our members to make some arrangements for after they are gone. When you order a product or service from PostScript, you are buying not only the product, but also PostScript's promise that we will deliver your items to your designated recipients in accordance with your wishes.

For every product we sell, PostScript deposits 100 percent of the procurement costs for the item and the cost of packaging and delivering that item in a secure trust account. The moment you place an order, our systems record and track your purchase, make the financial arrangements to guarantee future delivery, and allow you to check in at any time and verify that your gift is ready to go when the time comes.

Our proprietary software and systems enable us to act on your wishes the moment we receive notification of your passing. Whether that is in three years or three decades, your wishes will be implemented. Guaranteed.